GOVERNMENT TESTIMONIALS -We have been gratified with seeing some more artistic productions of Mr. J G. Bruff the well-known designing draughtsman We refer to his copies of designs, just furnished to the State Department, to wit: A medal and speaking trumpet. These are to be made of gold and silver, for presentation to the masters of foreign vessels who may rescue American vessels or lives from shipwreck. The design for the medal is as follows: On the obverse, a man lashed to a broken bowsprit, and drifting before a rough sea. He is looking over his shoulder, searching the blue waste of waters for some Heaven seut craft to rescue him from death. A smile of satisfaction seems to light up his haggard countenance, on discerning a ship in the distance, bearing down towards him. Sea-birds soar over him. The spar is marked U S .- showing it to be American; and the figure has been so devised as to answer for any class of American citizen-scamen, or others. Encircled within the raised edge by a cabled moulding. Reverse—an open wreath, eak and laurel, er stroies the field. At the bottom, where as stalks are bound together by a piece ca lope, a fine fierce-looking eagle seems to have just perched, and looks up to a star shaped constellation of thirty-one stars over head, where the branches meet. The suspension ring represents an eye-bolt and strap-a prettier or more appropriate symbol could not be devised

The design for the speaking trumpet is as follows: It is 23 inches long; conforming to the shape of the mouth piece is the representation of a ship's hull, with the figure head of a man in the attitude of leaping into the water as if to save some one; over him are laurel branches Below this the neck and throat of the trumpet assume a graceful swell, and are decorated with an antique trident head and a dolphin entwined. This part terminates in a nautical embellishment known as a Turk's head knot, to which is attached an eye and a thimble, for suspension, if necessary. Around the tube is a broad belt of shells and flowers, nature's gems of sea and land. Then an antique Roman galley, running before the wind, with the stars and stripes floating from her peak, while a liberty cap surmounts a staff on her prow. Next is a belt of wave ornament. On the swell of the muzzie is an oval medalion, raised, surrounded by oak and laurel. In the medalion is the representation of an eagle, bearing in his claws a garland of oak. The medalion on the opposite side is blank. The ring or lip of the muzzle is cabled.

QUARTERS FOR THE SESSION .- Those of our readers in want of rooms for the session will find excellent accommodations at the following places, viz: At Mrs. Wilson's, on the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Eleventh street, nearly opposite the Kirkwood House at No. 420, Fourteenth street, between H and I; at Flint's; at Mr. Havener's, No. 356 C street; at No. 455 D street, between Second costs. and Third streets; at Mr. John Gregory's, on Tenth street, two doors above McGuire's auction store; at Mr. Charles Scrivener's, on M street, north, between Sixth and Seventh streets; at 286 E street, between Thirteenth Sunday's Record-Parrow's Prize Concert, Anderson's No. 276 Pennsylvania avenue, two doors from the Kirkwood House. Those desiring board as well as rooms can be capitally accommodated at Mrs. Wilson's, on the corner of Pennsylvania avenue at Eleventh street; at Mrs. R. E Wheeler's, (formerly Mrs. Willis's,) on F street, at the corner of Thirteenth at Mrs. Manning's No. 453, Thirteenth street. between E and F; at Mrs. Hall's, No. 452 Thirteenth street; in Georgetown, at the house of Misses Shanks, on Bridge street, adjoining the store of Mrs. Berry, and at No. 181 Washington street, Georgetown. These in want of rooms, with or without board had better cut this brief directory out of the paper for reference. We can recommend all the places named in it. Some of them will suit the tastes and means of all persons in want of accommodations. Be sure to cut out this direc-

THE PLACE TO SPEND AN EVENING PLEASANT. LY -Every evening this week, at Odd-Fel lows' Hall, Seventh street, Bullard's celebrated Panorama of New York will be exhibited, commencing at 7½ o'clock. At least three thousand persons visited it here last week. The author of the work professes to give New York as it is, and he does it. Any one who has visited the city will bear testimony to the fidelity of his representations. The city is there before you, with all the activity and bustle which distinguish it. It is not probable that in any one day you will see the same, variety of human life which the panorame, presents; but he who traverses Broadway for a limited period will see it all. Those who have been able to see but a small portion of the city, will readily believe, from the fidelity which that portion is presented to them, that the part they have not seen is delineated with equal truth. If you wish to see New York as it is, you have nothing to do but to see the panorama. You may sit at in many hours' travel in the city itself.

MONEY RETURNED .- We learn that the Rev. Mr. O'Toole, pastor of St Patrick's Church, in this city, on Wednesday, restored to the Bank of Washington the sum of $5, which he had received for that purpose in the confessional. Editors Evening Star: I observed in the Star, on Saturday evening last, the above notice, which is incorrectly stated. The facts are these: Some day last week, (I believe on Wednesday morning.) the Rev Mr DeNeckere, Principal of the Catholic Seminary of this city, called upon me at my office, and asked me if I was interested in the Bank of Washington. I replied that I was one of the Trustees. He then handed me five dollars, and said it was the property of the Bank of Washington, and requested me to hand it to the bank, which I did in the course of the same day. Mr. DeNeckere did not say that it was received at the confessional, or anything further about it. If you think proper, you will please correct the error. Very respect-STANISLAUS MURRAY. December 4, 1854.

THE GREAT SALE ON WEDNESSAY NEXT. The reader will find in to-day's Star a full description of the Ingleside estate, to be said on Wednesday next by Mr. McGuire, auctioneer. Nothing like it, in the way of a princely residence, near the Federal seat of Government, was ever offered for sale. The house would pass for a palace in any country, while the grounds surrounding it are naturally as picturesque and beautiful as any in the country. The view is unsurpassed, as one sees from i down the river to Fort Washington, and all Washington, Georgetown, and Alexandria. No location could be healthier, and its distance from the centre of business here makes it but suburban. Such another opportunity for a gentleman of taste and wealth to obtain a magnificent residence and estate, within a mile of Washington, may never occur.

STEVENS'S "Home of Fashion."-Stevens, under Brown's Marble Hotel, keeps one of the most admirable gentiemen's furnishing stores in the country. Hats, gloves, under garments, handkerchiefs, umbrellas, canes, perfumery, brushes, &c., &c., can be found at this establishment in great variety, of the latest style; and best materials. It is not Stevens's fine assortment of goods that alone draws customers to his home of fashion; it is the winning way he has of serving those who call on him. It is a pleasure to deal with him-he is perfectly irresistible. -

STRIKE OF THE CARPENTERS .- The journeymen carpenters of our city have struck for an alteration of their working hours. Heretofore they have worked from 6 to 6 for $2 per day. They now wish to commence their work at 8 in the morning and quit at sunset for $1 75 per diem This the employers have ob jected to, and the journeymen have "knocked off." Up to this time, no compromise has been affected. It is a hard thing for men who support their families by the toil of their hands to be out of employment at this inclement season.

"REMEMBER THE SABBATH DAY."-Last night, Capt Birch, with a few of the police and guards, paid a visit to the northern part of Seventh street, and came upon a merry company of young ladies and gentlemen, who certainly had forgotten that it was the Sabhath day and were employing the moments in the sprightly dance. The consequence was, that all were taken to the guard-house and made to pay the fine and costs imposed by the cor poration on those who have no respect for the day set apart for the worship of our Creator.

ALEXARDRIA CORRESPONDENCE.

ALEXANDRIA, Dec. 4, 1854. The Award-Hydraulion Prize Trumpet-Religious Retreat.

Yesterday, a cold rain kept most of our population within doors, but the religious exercises at our various churches were very well attended. Most of the pulpits were filled by the regular pastors, but at the Methodist Church South the Rev. Mr. Amos preached, and Rev. J. P. Donelan preached to large au- of the Star office. ences at St. Mary's.

Parrow's grand prize concert came off on Friday night at Liberty Hall. At the close of the performances, Mr. Parrow came forward and announced that some unknown cause had delayed the arrival of the trumpet. He, however, called upon the various representatives of the fire companies to make their reports of the number of tickets sold. Mr W. Smith, from the Hydraulion, and C. W Neale. from the Relif, came upon the stand, when it appeared that the latter gentleman had no report. The representative of the Hydraulion then claimed the trumpet, and a scene of con. fusion ensued which became worse confounded. A large number jumped upon the stage, each trying to make himself heard above the "noise and confusion." The loud cry of "Peelers" and 'Shanghais' rung hough the hall, mingled occasionally with a yell of "Sea Horses!" The gas was finally shut off, and the audience dismissed in darkness. On Saturday evening the trumpet arrived, and was awarded by Mr. Parrow to the Hy draulion, whose members had sold the largest number of tickets-five hundred. Their principal competitors, the members of the Relief, sold about three hundred

The trumpet was manufactured for exhibition at the recent Franklin Institute fair, where it attracted much attention as a master-piece of art. It well rewards the energy of the Hydraulion

> The general jubilee of the Catholic Church opened at St. Mary's church, in this place, esterday, with a religious retreat, which will continue during the entire week. We hear that Rev. Bernard McGuire, S. J., president of Georgetown College, and Rev. J. P. Donelan, of Piscataway, will occupy the pulpit at the evening exercises, and that the former paster, Rev. J. T. Aiken, with Rev. Messrs. Boyle and Burn, will assist the present pastors in the other duties of the retreat.

It will be remembered that Mr. W. received from the World's Fair, London, two medals for his unrivalled daguerreotypes of President Filmore and Cabinet, and Pantiscopes of Niagara Falls, besides premiums at all the fairs at which he has exhibited for many years past. This speaks volumes in favor of his gallerias. Call and have your likenesses taken at Whitehurst's Galle

By J. C. McGUIRE, Auctioncer. DUBLIC SALE OF AN ELEGANT ESTATE. - CT WEDNESDAY, December 6th, at 12 o'clock m on th premises, I shall sell that valpable and cost ly estate known as "Ingleside." This property is situated in Washington county District of Columbis, and centains about one hundred and forty acres of land, all of which is wel and substautially fenced. Said property is divided by the "old Mill Road" into two parts. The "farm side," or southern portion, contains about 100 acces, and the "house si'e," or northern portion, about forty-one acres. The "farm side," consisting of cultivated and wooded land, is situated between the "old Washing on Race Course" (lying west of 14th street) and Piney Branch Bridge, bounded by Book Creek on the south and b the county road to Pierce's Mill on the north, about one alf mile be-and 14th street. This farm has been recently surveyed and divide into sites containing from five to twenty acres each, suitable for cottage residences, all of which are abundantly water d by pure and unfailing springs. One of the lots referred to is improved by the erec tion of a farm-house, a large barn, corn-crib, sta-bling for horses and cows, and sheds for farming utensils, &c., together with oct-houses, &c., and a hydraulic ram for supp ying water for the build-

In the subdivision of this property particular care has been taken to give to most of the lots the ad vantages of extended views towards the city of Washington and the Potomac river, and also a fair proportion of cultivated and wooded land to erob. In the plat of the preperty, which will be exhibited, may be seen the location of the roads to and from the county road to each of the vi la sites.

Upwards of fifty five thousand dollars have been expended within the past two years in improving and embellishing this property, and in every respect substa- tiality has been combined with taste and convenience

The Mansion House (which is entirely new, never having been occurred) is situated on a tract of lard containing about forty one acres, lying north of the "Farm Side," bounded on the east by the estate of Col. William felden, north and west by Piney Branch, and south by the County Road; is superior in point of construction a d elegance to any dwelling within the limits of the District. It is an in reguiar Italian Vi la r. sidence, about 160 feet iront by varied depths of from 30 to 60 feet, built in the most substantial manner of granite and brick, rougheast, and pais ted in imitation of brown stone, posses-ing withal an extended view of the Potemac and many prominent parts of the city of Washington, together with an area of some fifteen miles of hack country. The building contains a drawing-room, par or, bi liard room, hall 28 feet wide, li-Chdmbermaid. Satisfactory reference given the first floor. The s cord story contains six large brary, dining : oom, butler's pantry and kitchen on and airy chambers, tegether with bath room, servants' apartments, &c Also, a large and airy own in the third story or tee tower.

The hall, butler's pantry, kitchen, chambers, and dressing rooms are abundantly supplied with hot wheel, situated 250 yares from the dwelling, and capable of supplying 7,200 gailons of pure spring water per diem In adultion to the spring, trem which supplies of water are furnished for the house by means of the water-whiel attached to it, is also one of the largest and purest springs to be found in the District, being about fifty feet in length by three to twelve feet in width, and capaple of supp y ing at least fifty gallons of water per minute, or Rev. J. C. Lovejoy for Mayor, and Mr. Z. L. 72,000 gallons of water per diem; the temperature Raymond is said to be the Know Nothing canof the water varies in summer, but very little for that attained in winter, and during the summer season is sufficien ly cold to be used without ice

The out-buildings, consisting of a carriage boure about 65 by 40 feet, containg two large lofis canable for charitable purposes by citizens of forton. will afford two convenient small shops, fronting on ling the highest cash prices. Persons having Slaves of holding 26 tons of hay; barness room; stabing besides the large for sale will please call at 242 PRATT STREET, Ralifor sight borses; washing shed; and conveniences not made known. in keesing with the character of the mansion. The house stands upon an elevated knoll, with abundance of lawn in front and rear, and having the advantages of magnificent primitive first shade About twenty-five acres of this tract is hea vily timbered with native forest trees, and the whole place is susceptible of being made a perf ct garden spot at a mere n minal expense The numerous reads to and from "Ingleside," are unexceptionable. Many handsome residences already surround it. The proximity to the city and healthful location, cannot fail to recommend it to persons desir ng a tural residence. The property will be sold in lots as laid down in the plat, or disposed of entire, as the purchaser may wish. The place is well supplied with the choicest im ported fruit trees, vines, &c., &c.; and being built by the owner for his permanent residence, no extense was spared in combining all the conveniences, comforts and elegances which can be found in the most luxurious country seat in the Union Title indisputable Terms: One-third cash; the residue in three equal payments at six, twelve, and eighteen months, with interest, recured by deed of trust on the property.
